PROGRAM PLANNING AND STUDENT GUIDANCE

1968

CHALLENGED THE Administration

Mr. Frank Looked Ahead To Reorganization

Backed by one of the most enthusiastic and eager student bodies of his career, Mr. Frankowiak enjoyed a year of less crowded conditions at Springfield High School. Crowded conditions and space problems, however, are again becoming some of the main concerns facing him. With the probability that the enrollment will increase by some 400 to 500 students next fall, Mr. Frankowiak has formulated tentative plans for the 1968-1969 school year.

Mr. Frank is certain of the fact that a principal's job is never boring. During the past year he has overseen such projects as the installation of a new language lab, the addition of carrels in the library, and the relocation of the English Materials Center.

For Mr. Frank's interest in and concern over the growth and welfare of each student, we of Springfield High School heartily thank him.

Frank Frankowiak, Principal

John Turner, Assistant Principal

Mr. Turner Supervised Activities

This past year Mr. Turner and Mr. Hott encouraged more participation and enthusiasm in school activities.

Although Mr. Turner is very much interested in helping people, he stressed the fact that behavior problems are not the only duties of an assistant principal. Some of his responsibilities include supervising faculty and student social activities, handling attendance, and working with the National Honor Society. Mr. Turner's extra-curricular activities revolve around his interests in hunting and school athletic contests.

Mr. Hott Assumed New Position

As our new assistant principal, Mr. Hott has many duties to carry out. Some of the operations which come under his supervision are discipline, student office procedure, daily announcements, scheduling, and supervising counseling. He also works with Mr. Turner and Mr. Frankowiak on improving the curriculum. Mr. Hott also serves as chairman of National Honor Society. During his free hours, Mr. Hott and his wife participate in community activities, enjoy music, and belong to a total of six Parent-Teacher Associations.

Preston Hott, Assistant Principal

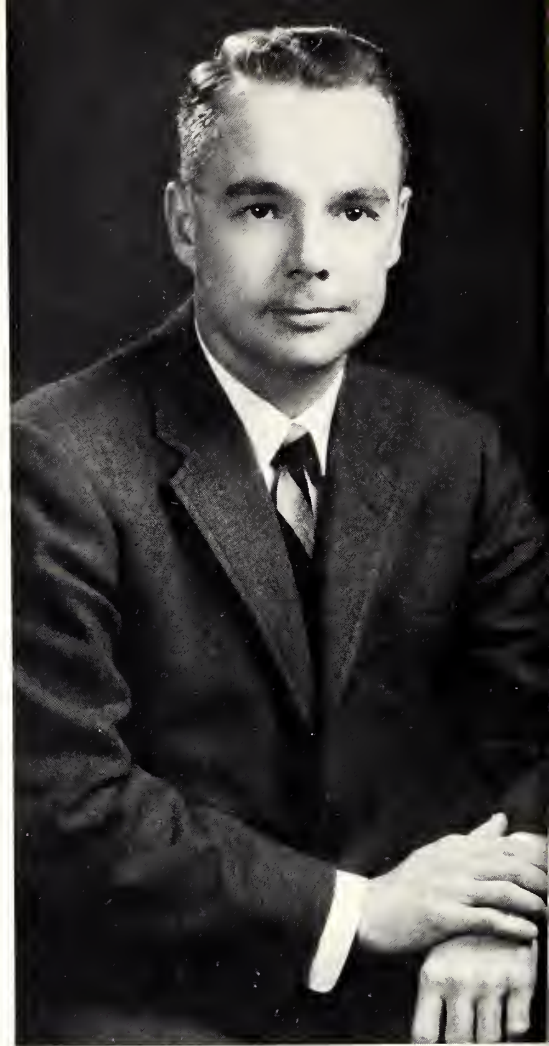

Board Of Education Appropriated Money For Language Labs

Members of the Board of Education gave many hours to planning improvements in the Springfield Public School System. Student enrollment at Springfield High School was reduced this year because of the opening of the new Southeast High School. Less crowding in the halls and facilities of the school made broader student program opportunities possible.

Two modern language laboratories were installed which provided more opportunity for foreign language instruction. The supplementary book library was moved to a new and improved location. The former supplementary book library became a second art room to expand the school's art program.

These improvements were indications of the constant effort on the part of the Board of Education to provide the best possible educational opportunities for the young people of our community.

P. T. A. Sponsored Parent Orientation

Parent-Teacher Association objectives are "to promote the welfare of children and youth in home, school, church and community, to raise the standards of home life, to secure the adequate laws for the care and protection of children and youth, to bring into closer relation the home and the school that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the training of the child, and to develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social and spiritual education."

This year the Springfield High P.T.A. presented several interesting and stimulating programs. Among them were the September Open House to give parents an opportunity to visit their child's classes and meet his teachers; College Night in October to enable students and parents to interview the various college representatives, the November meeting featuring Dr. Ann Pearson as guest speaker; the December Christmas Concert given by the combined choirs; and the April orientation for parents of incoming students.

Christmas Concert replaced the December meeting.

In Memoriam

In memory of Mrs. Jacqueline Worthington whose sudden death on November 18, 1967, was a tragic loss not only to her loved ones, but also to her students and her co-workers. Mrs. Worthington, a most capable and dedicated teacher, left many friends at Springfield High who will not forget her enthusiasm for her work and her sincere interest in her students.

F. A. C. Discusses Solutions To Next Year's Overcrowding

Members of the Faculty Advisory Committee met monthly to plan for the faculty meetings and to confer with the principal and the assistant principals on matters concerning the entire school. The committee acted as a representative for all teachers and made suggestions regarding such matters as parking lot arrangements, testing schedules, and Student Council elections.

At the January meeting, Mr. Frank presented three different proposals regarding the reorganization of the school day for the increased enrollment next year. At later meetings, such topics as class schedules, lunch periods, and room utilization were discussed. By working with the administration, the F.A.C. helped to meet and solve any problems which arose.

Mr. Frank and Mr. Duey discuss the agenda for the next F.A.C. meeting.

"Vanity Fair" Assembly Satirized Girls' Fashions

Counselors offered guidance to students in their social as well as their academic life. Mrs. Halberg, Mrs. Steffen, and Mrs. Zeller co-sponsored the "Vanity Fair" Assembly, which sought to emphasize the importance of appropriate dress for school.

They also handled testing programs for all three classes this year, including the new Chattel-Culture Fair Intelligence Test, administered to sophomores.

College counselor, Miss Hausen, held meetings concerning college entrance requirements and scholarships available under the new Illinois State Grant Program.

Mr. Busch joined the counseling staff for the first semester. At the beginning of the second semester, Mr. Joe Treat became the junior boys' counselor so that Mr. Busch could return to his work in the field of Special Education.

Department Heads Prepared Budgets

Meeting periodically with Mr. Frank, the department heads were a vital link between the faculty and administration. The department heads coordinated activities of the various departments, including decisions on course offerings and the scheduling of teachers for classes.

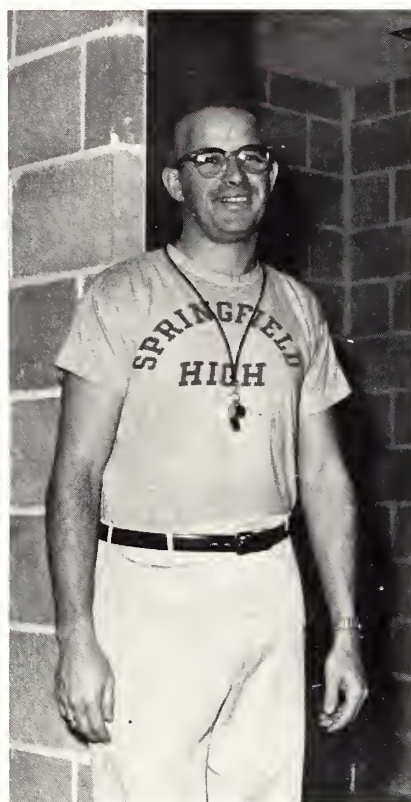

Figuring and submitting the budget for the departments and keeping account of supplies was a major task tackled by members of this group. They did this with the cooperation of the teachers in their respective fields and with approval of the administration.

English Department Introduced Programmed Learning

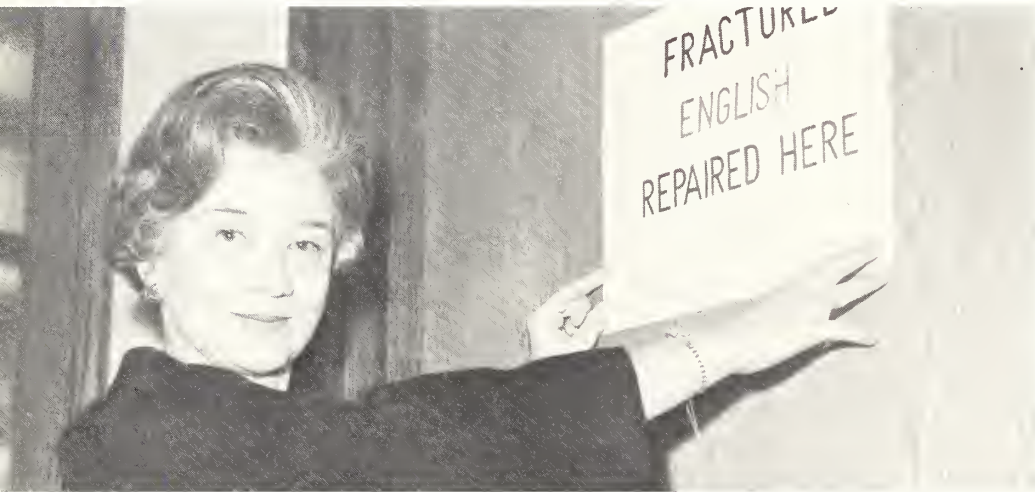

In the English curriculum, students were offered a wide diversity of courses in the fields of speech, drama, journalism, and basic English. Sophomores began their training with a grammar review and a study of the types of literature rather than a particular area of literature.

Juniors were required to do a great deal of reading combined with the study of American Literature in connection with their study of linguistics. Also, at the junior level, programmed learning was initiated. This involved the extensive use of audio-visual equipment.

An innovation was made in the senior English curriculum this year when English Literature was substituted for American Lit. Also, in the realm of electives were courses in World Literature and Creative Writing, designed primarily for students with special abilities in this field.

As in previous years, an advanced placement course was available to seniors who wished to increase their knowledge in preparation for college work.

Study Booths Aided Individual Concentration

In spite of the fact that there were less students at Springfield High School in 1968, the library circulation has greatly increased. Mrs. Haaker, the librarian, Mrs. Poiriez, her assistant, and ten student assistants worked hard handling the 8,000 books and magazines and assisting the students. The library this year added 500 new books and ten new magazines, including three English publications. Of the three latter, the English magazine, Punch, has had surprising popularity among the students.

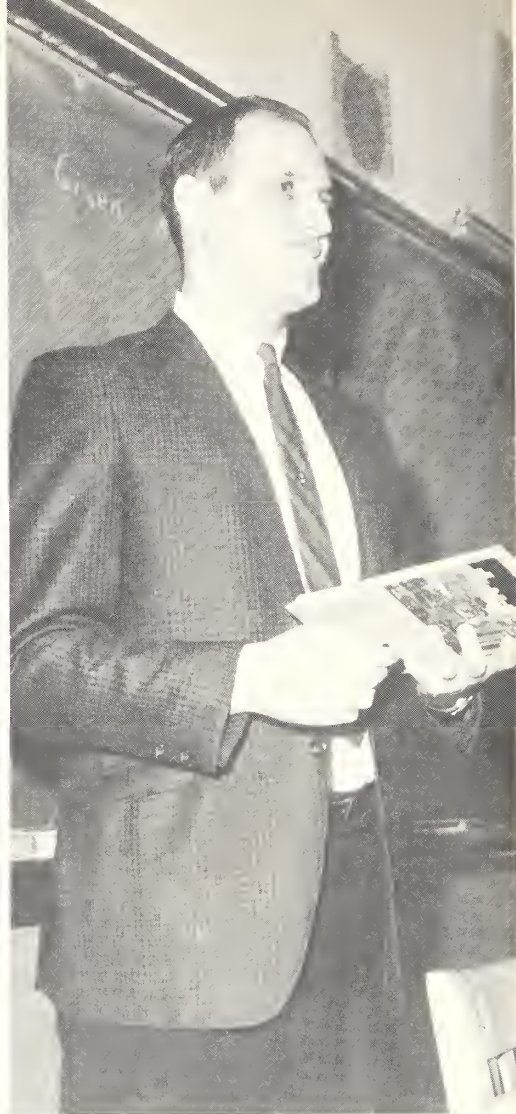

Five individual study carrels, booths for private studying or reading, were brand-new accessories in the library this year. New book stacks had been added to enable library personnel to give better service to the students.

Math Courses Combined

Traditional And Modern Concepts

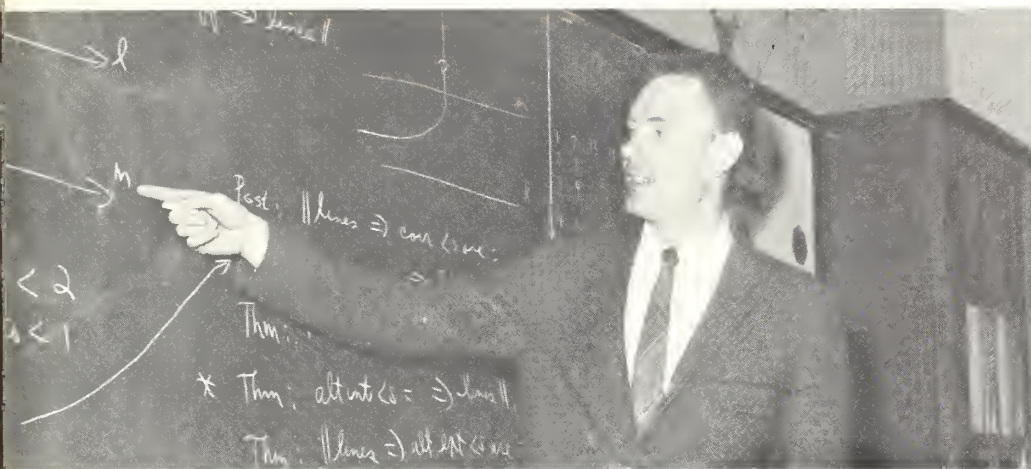

Attempting to provide a curriculum that would benefit all students, the Mathematics Department offered two main areas of study. The traditional algebra and geometry courses provided a basic training in advanced mathematics, while the accelerated classes in college algebra, analytic geometry, trigonometry, and statistics stressed the theory and modern concepts of mathematics. Analytic geometry and calculus were honor courses offered only to seniors.

The National Mathematics Examination was administered to all students enrolled in accelerated programs and any other who wished to take it. Scores were based on a tabulation of results over the entire nation. Top-ranking students from SHS were recognized at an assembly at the end of the year.

Scientific Discoveries Necessitated Course Revision

This year in the Science Department there were many interesting courses from which to select.

Courses were offered in General Biology, Physiology, and Zoology. In the field of Physical Science the courses were Physics, Chemistry, and a Unified Physics and Chemistry course.

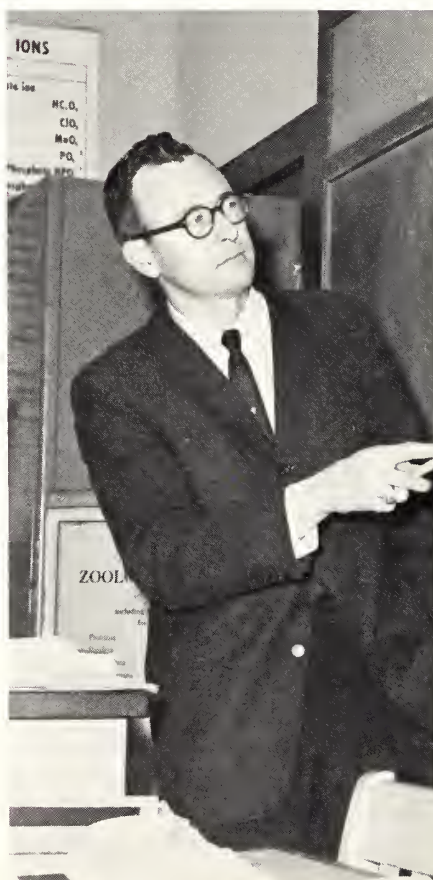

For superior students interested in Biology, a Research Biology class was offered. This class, conducted by Mr. Wind, was designed to enable students to utilize facilities within the community in pursuing research projects. Everybody who takes this course submits, along with his general work, a research paper. Outstanding papers are entered in the District Science Fair in Jacksonville. Some progress to the State Science Fair in Champaign. Others are submitted for Ford Foundation Awards.

Fashion, Foods And Families Kept Home Ec Department Functioning

Our Home Economics Department at Springfield High School offered many courses to girls in preparation for the future. Courses were not limited to cooking and sewing, but also included programs in Child Care and Development, Home Management, Housing, and Family Living. All these courses included problems of consumer buying and budgeting. For beginners, a full-year introductory course was required. After this course, however, classes could be taken for one semester only.

A new subject has been added to the Home Economics Department this year. It is called Home Economics Occupations and is taught by Mrs. Nesbitt. It is a cooperative course combining on-the-job experience with study at school in a work-related class.

Social Science Department Built Better Citizens

The Social Science Department worked to give students a better insight into the problems of the world and the people who make up our universe. Although the students were taught United States History and American Government, the problems of other nations were also stressed in World History and World Affairs.

A world-wide scope was also used in World Cultures, a class which dealt with the art, literature, history, and customs of the major cultures of the world.

Economics explored problems in agriculture, labor, and industry, while Sociology dealt with social groups and changes.

A new course, Psychology, was added this year in the Social Science Department to help students understand more about themselves and their fellow men.

Fine Arts Enriched By New Courses

This year's students in the Fine Arts Department worked to develop their creative ability and talent in the fields of music, both vocal and instrumental, and art.

Mr. Spreckelmeyer continued his direction of the A Cappella Choir, the Advanced Girls' Choir, the Mixed Choir, the Sophomore Girls' Choir, and the Singing Seven. An all-male group, the Singing Senators, was also added this year. These groups presented Christmas and Spring Concerts to entertain parents, friends, and fellow students.

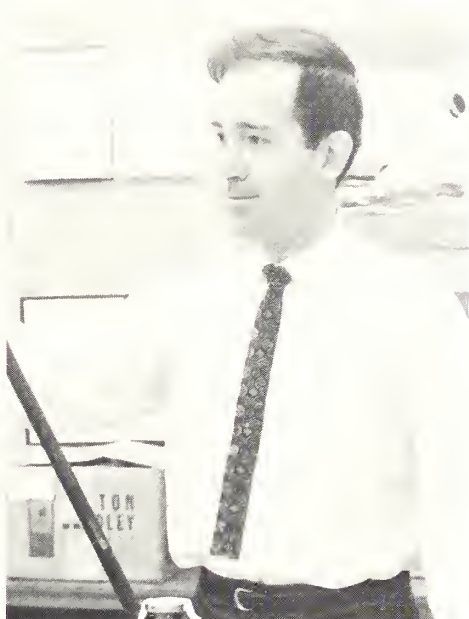

Two new music courses, Music Appreciation and Music Theory, were added. Taught by Mrs. Chilovich, these courses increased students' awareness and understanding of music.

Instrumental music activity was led by Mr. Cappellin, who directed the band, and Mr. Bowen, who conducted the orchestra. These groups performed at school concerts, community events, and at home games.

The Art Department worked to develop in students an understanding of the basic fundamentals of art and an appreciation of the various art forms. Artists displayed their creativity and imagination in pencil sketches, chalk drawings, and works in pen and ink. Both Mrs. Lawrence and Mr. Edwards helped students develop techniques and skills in the many different fields of art.

Students Prepared For Future Careers In Business

Clicking typewriters, scratching pencils, and industrious students typified the Business Department. Even though they were in the process of revising and expanding their curriculum, the teachers of this department concentrated their efforts on preparing students for a career in business.

Classroom instruction enabled the students to develop typing, book-keeping and stenographic skills. On-the-job training opportunities offered in Office Occupations and Distributive Education allowed a carefully selected group of students to obtain first-hand knowledge of actual business situations.

The training offered to students in this department is designed to prepare them for work in a government agency or in the sales field as well as for work in a business office.

Lab Earphones Acquainted Students With Conversation

Students and teachers were happy to get the two new language labs this year. The labs were used on a rotating basis for classes. Also, individual booths were provided for students who wished to "bone up" during study periods or after school.

New courses this year were the third-year German class and the non-credit Russian class. It is hoped that next year there will be enough interested students to form a full-credit Russian class, fifth-year French and Spanish classes, and a fourth-year German course.

Industrial Arts Stimulated Vocational Skills

The Industrial Arts Department consists of courses in metal-working, graphic arts, wood-working, and mechanical drawing. Vocational Courses offered in the Vocational School were auto mechanics, vocational drafting, electronic data processing, building trades, electricity and electronics, and welding. These forms of education are not intended to develop skilled artisans, but rather to create an interest in this form of education.

The objectives of an Industrial Arts and Vocational program are to develop useful habits, attitudes and knowledges, an effective utilization of materials, and appropriate adjustment to the industrial phases of the modern environment.

The satisfaction in Industrial Education comes to the student when he is able to work through a project all the way from its early stages to the finished product.

Daily Classes Highlighted Physical Education Program

The seven-period day and expanded facilities made it possible for gym classes to meet every day this year. Included for the first time in Girls' Physical Education were field hockey and modern dance as well as a three-week block of health and sex education per semester for both boys and girls.

At the beginning of the second semester, girls voted to initiate a clean-towel service for a fee of $2.50. Outside of regular classes, gym enthusiasts were able to participate in the Girls' Athletic Association, an expanded intramural program, and gymnastics club, which met on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Girls specifically interested in physical education as a college major elected P.E. Majors Class, which offered a more complete program in Physical Education.

Boys' classes utilized the facilities of Douglas Park because of crowded athletic-field conditions. The first and seventh hour classes were able to schedule tennis at Washington Park.

Everyone realized that classes were overcrowded, and it appeared these conditions would bring about a return to the even-odd system in the next few years.

Special Education Stressed Basic Courses

Special Education at Springfield High School is under the direction of Miss Susan Willey. This type of education is adapted primarily to the exceptional learner. The greater part of their time is spent in the areas of mathematics, English, and social studies.

Some of these students are employed in local businesses and as aides in the elementary schools during a part of the school day. Others attend regular classes in various departments.

As pre-vocational coordinator for the Special Education Program, Mr. Busch supervises this phase of the program at both Springfield and Southeast High School.

Supervised Study

Study hall supervisors were again employed to monitor students in study halls. They were aided by staff teachers, one of whom was assigned to each study hall each period.

The sophomores used the cafeteria for their study center, and the juniors and seniors studied in the auditorium. Besides checking attendance and maintaining order, another task of the supervisors was aiding the counselors in distributing information on testing programs and class schedules.

The supervisors remained with the same class for the three years that they were in high school, as did the counselors. Thus, the study hall supervisors, too, were able to know the students in the individual classes quite well.

Staff Handled Public Relations

The efficient operation of the business office, the student office, and the counseling office at SHS is the responsibility of a very capable, dedicated office staff. Mrs. Lane, Mrs. Browning, and Mrs. Hursh keep the main office running smoothly. Mrs. Martinie supervises the student office, and Miss Bryant handles attendance records. Mrs. Kostolni receives students and visitors in the counseling office.

Mrs. Blair, the school nurse, is on duty throughout the school day. Many students avail themselves of her services each day.

Cafeteria Expanded Food Selection

The results of a survey taken in homerooms shortly after school began were used to improve cafeteria service. More snack foods such as hamburgers and hot dogs were added to the menu. Another innovation was recorded music during lunch shifts.

Custodial employees were responsible for keeping the building clean during the school day as well as after evening functions. The Christmas concert presented somewhat of a problem to this efficient group. Long after the concert had been given, the custodial staff could be seen "chasing snowflakes."

Custodians also assisted program directors in setting up props, arranging chairs, and regulating the public address system.

ACTIVITIES THROUGH Organizations

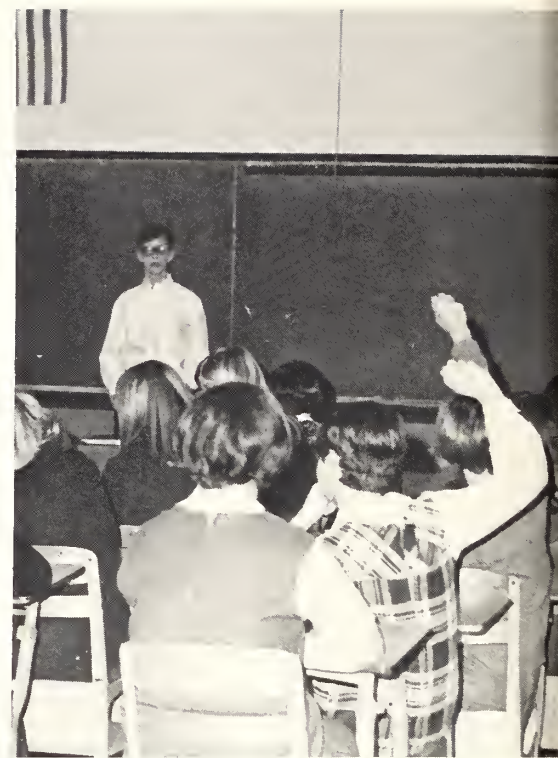

Student Council Acted As "Sounding Board"

The principal objective of Springfield High School's Student Council is to improve relations among the students, faculty, and administration. They literally act as a "Sounding Board" for any problems which arise. They are also responsible for various school functions. Student Council sponsored Homecoming and the Variety Show. The proceeds helped finance our AFS student program.

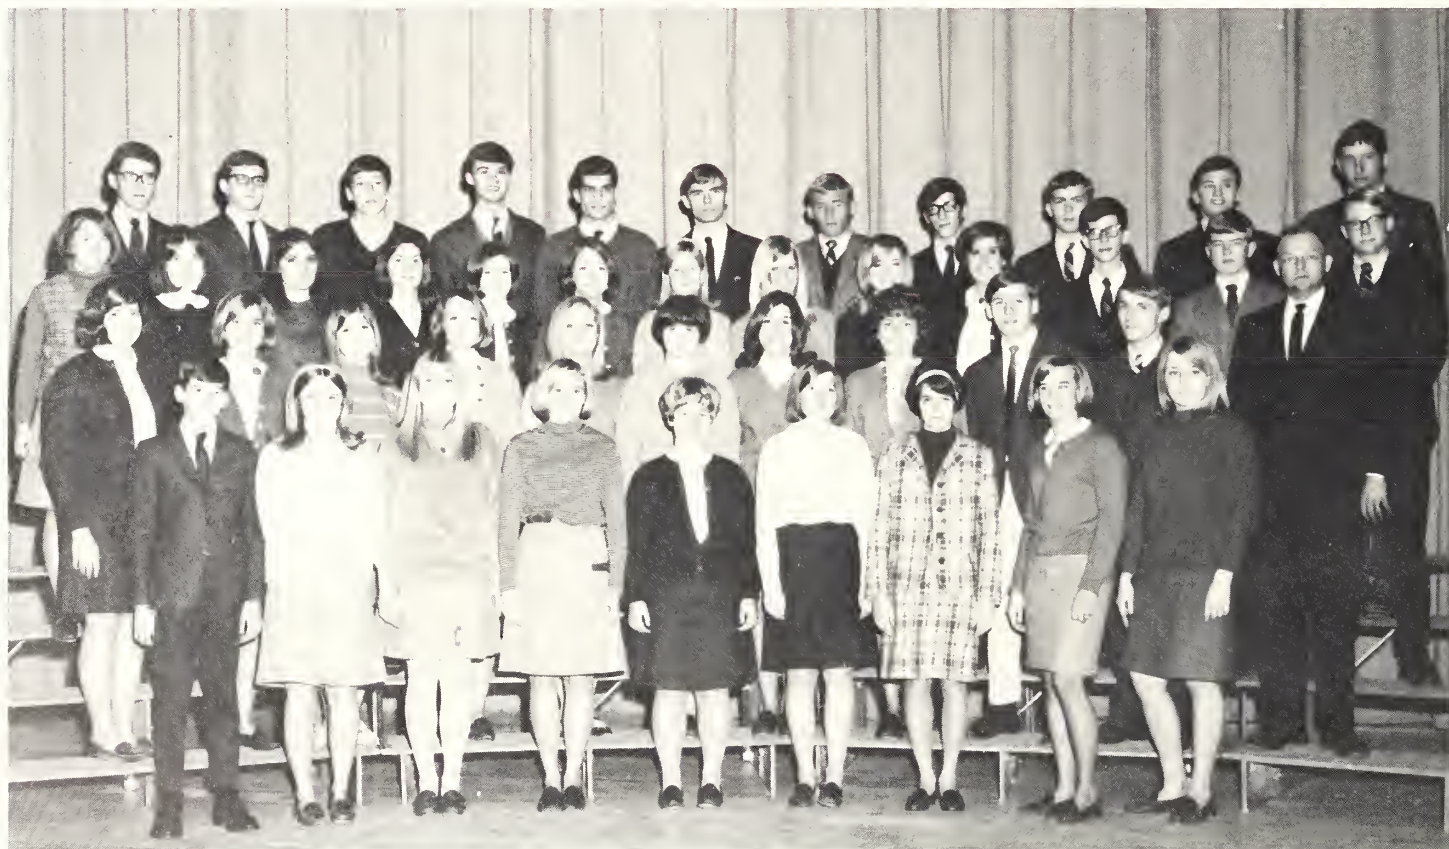

This year the Student Council initiated a monitoring program. Monitors were appointed to aid in controlling the hall traffic during classes. They also served as escorts and supplied information for visitors to the school.

Members participated in charitable programs such as the "Can and Dime Drive" and "Peanuts for Polio." The Student Council is a member of Intra-City Student Council. The SHS representatives to this council were seniors Mary Jane Richter, Ron Coffman, and Gene Drendel, who is the corresponding secretary for the SHS Student Council; juniors Becky Harbison and Charlie Meyer; and sophomore Marty Weisbaum. The Inter-Student Council school exchange is another organization to which the Student Council belongs.

Philos Co-Sponsored Hay-Rack Ride

Philos once again began the year with initiation of pledges in September. After formal initiation, pledges were responsible for selling tags in support of the animal shelter.

The club sponsored a booth at the Beat Street Fair to aid the Little Red School House. They also co-sponsored a hay-rack ride with Interact in late October.

Philos took part in Homecoming activities against the Urbana Tigers.

"Kitty in a Casket" was the theme of their float. Volunteers also sold peanuts at the afternoon game. During the Christmas season, Philo carolers went to four area nursing homes. The club donated gift-wrapped presents to patients at the Jacksonville State Hospital and the Lincoln State School. Officers held a Christmas dinner for residents of the John Hay Homes.

Interact Hosted College Days

This year Interact sponsored its largest annual College Day. There were sixty-three colleges represented, and large numbers of students were able to contact representatives of the various colleges and universities.

Some of Interact's other projects included working at the Concession Stand at football games and at the Theatre Guild, collecting for the United Fund, sponsoring a school assembly, and arranging for the KXOK All-Star Basketball Game.

Les Bas Worked Diligently To Support A Foster Child

At the end of the last school year, Les Bas adopted a South Vietnamese girl through the Christian Children's Fund. Her name is Thi Cam Tu, and she is nine years old. The girls in the club sent her letters and gifts throughout the year.

After the initiation of the Junior Les Bas, the pledges earned points by selling doughnuts before school on Tuesdays and Thursdays to hungry students and teachers.

A new project this year was a booth for the "Beat Street Fair." It was a ring-toss booth with a slight innovation — the rings were tossed on the feet of a can-can girl.

A Christmas party at the Hope School for the Blind is held traditionally. This year the Singing Seven furnished the entertainment, and cookies baked by Les Bas members were served.

Other events of the year were the annual Mother-Daughter Luncheon, a dance held in the spring, which was co-sponsored with other school clubs, and the Les Bas Homecoming Float which bore the theme, "Tear Those Tigers."

Key Club Provided Services For Community

Key Club continued its fine tradition of serving school and community by collecting money for the Salvation Army at Christmas time and raising funds for the Animal Shelter. The members of Key Club provided great fun for their fellow students and a chance to watch the faculty members at their athletic best by sponsoring the Donkey Basketball Game. Also on the more social side of their activities was a spring dance, co-sponsored with the other school clubs.

Junior Capitoline Qualified '69 Yearbook Staff

Extensive art work, vigorous contract solicitation, and many long hours of work characterized the activities of this year's Junior Capitoline Staff. The club, under the successful and capable guidance of Mr. Cooler, compiled and sold the annual Springfield High School Student Directory in preparation for their work on the Capitoline Staff the following year.

Each year Junior Capitoline donates its profits to the school to be used to help improve Springfield High School's image and student life. During the summer, the new Junior Capitoline Staff worked on landscaping the front lawn of the school. Other contributions to the school by the club were various trophies, jackets for the tennis team, and new cheerleaders' uniforms.

Capitoline Staff Used Three Column Layout

On September 15, members of the 1968 Capitoline staff attended the annual Illinois State High School Press Association convention held in Champaign, Illinois. Those who attended this informative session returned to S.H.S. filled with several new and usable ideas for layouts, copy, photographs, and cover design.

Under the able direction of advisor Miss Carmody and editor-in-chief Nancy Robbins, members compiled and organized information pertinent to the scholastic, athletic, and social activities of the 67-68 school year. Working constantly and diligently during seventh period each day and often after school and on Saturdays, each person on the staff considered herself personally rewarded as each of the three deadlines was met.

By recording memories of the school year through pictorial material and factual information, this year's Capitoline staff has hoped it successfully captured the spirit of 1967-1968 at Springfield High School.

Offset Press Modernized Layout Of The "Senator"

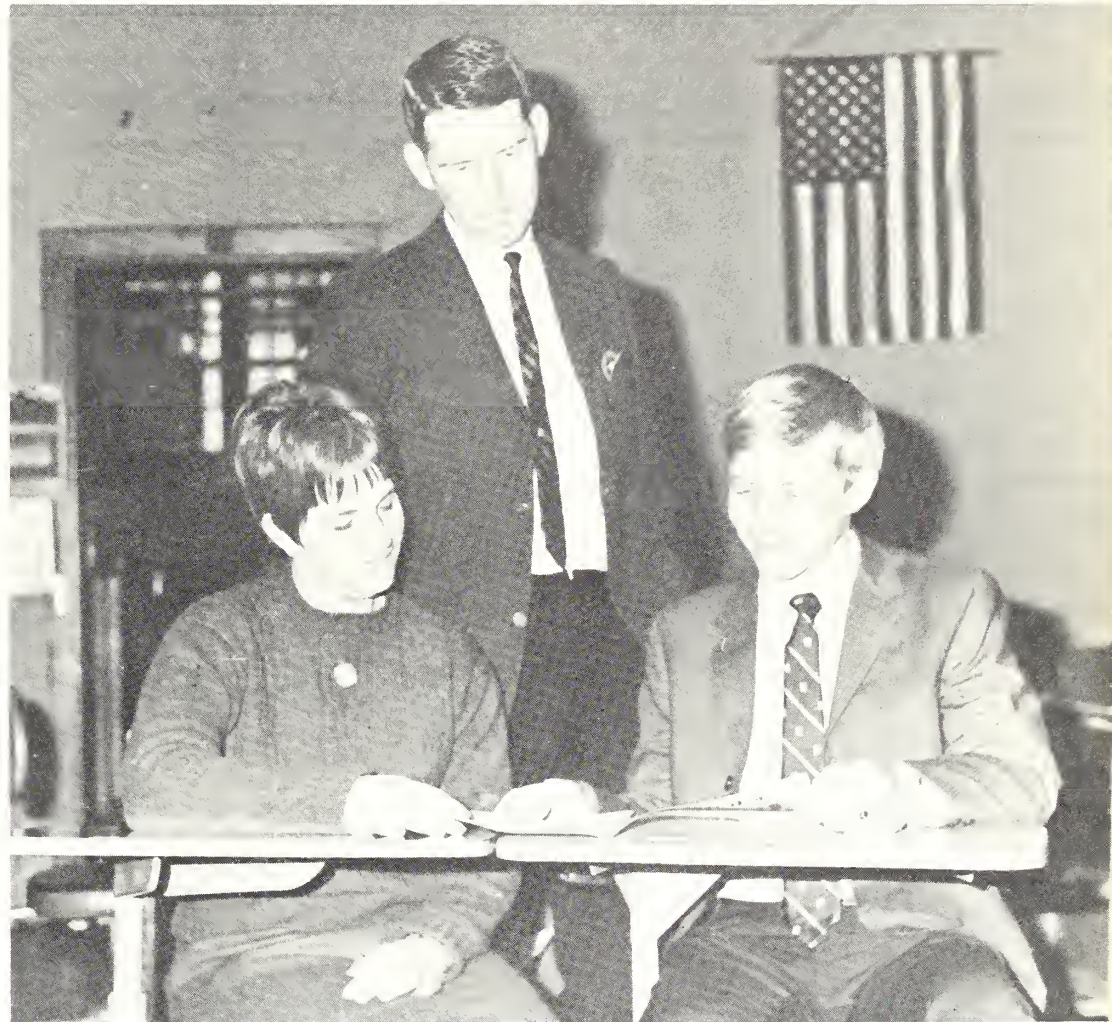

For his fifth consecutive year, Mr. Ronald Huddleston was again advisor to the staff for the Senator, Springfield High School's student newspaper. Under the direction of Editor-in-Chief Steve Grant, the Senator Staff took great strides in improving the newspaper and has proven itself successful. All work on the paper must be done outside of school time. Assisting the staff in their work was a new offset printing machine provided by the Board of Education.

Managing Editor Libby Larison, News Editor Phyllis Betts, and Layout Editor Sue Smith attended lectures at the Illinois State High School Press Association Convention in September. They received many new suggestions, some of which were utilized in subsequent issues of the Senator. Staff photographers experimented with layouts for insert picture pages which were highly successful.

The staff editorialized frequently—sometimes with resulting action and sometimes to no avail. Editors sounded off against parking-lot conditions, useless drinking fountains, and 4-minute passing periods between classes.

Future Teachers Learned New Techniques

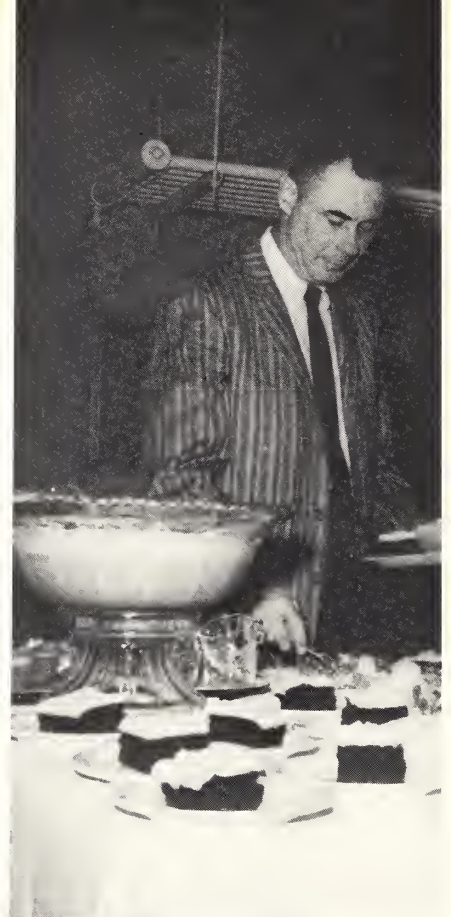

Faculty members Mrs. Haynes and Miss Campbell, enthusiastically advised the Future Teachers of America this year. Club members attended meetings every other Tuesday. The meetings featured such programs as a talk by Miss Antilla on the work of the Peace Corps; planning for the F.T.A. booth at the Little Red Schoolhouse Fair; and several films of interest to prospective teachers.

The F.T.A. attended an Institute last fall in Argentina. At this meeting, innovations in teaching and course scheduling in high schools were discussed.

A tic-tac-toe booth built by the club for the Beat Street Fair, and the annual Faculty Christmas Tea were two of the projects successfully undertaken by the group.

Sale Of Typing Guides Financed F. S. A. Projects

The Future Secretaries Association is sponsored by the National Secretaries Association of Springfield. Miss Wilma Leasman is advisor of the club at SHS. Membership is open to high school junior and senior girls in all public and parochial schools who are enrolled in typing and shorthand and who maintain a general average of C or higher.

In the All-City Association, there were approximately 116 members this year who attended programs on grooming, panel discussions, and various other topics of interest to the future secretary.

Profits from a style show held in March were added to a business school scholarship fund. Another fund-raising project for the SHS chapter was the selling of Typing Guides for term papers. This has been a very successful venture for the chapter for the past several years.

Exchange Program

The American Field Service Club has two main functions: first, to welcome the foreign exchange student to Springfield High School and to make him feel at home; second, to acquaint the students of Springfield High with the opportunity of spending a summer or a school year in some foreign country under the auspices of the American Field Service.

In the fall, the AFS Club devoted much time and effort to building a float which captured second place in the Homecoming Parade. At the same time, members were also preparing for their Cake Walk Concession at the Beat Street Fair. Also, this group co-sponsors the International Dinner which is held each year in the spring.

S.H.S. won the Big Twelve Conference debate contest, with Sally Birket and Chris Robertson winning first and second-place speaker awards. Art Club Decorated Christmas Tree At Illinois State Museum Appreciation of art, more than artistic ability, was the aim of this year's Art Club. Their monthly meetings, however, produced more tangible results. Visiting art galleries, design centers and museums was a part of their yearly activities.

One of their major projects was to decorate a Christmas tree in the Illinois State Museum with ornaments handmade of corn husks, seeds, berries, and pine cones. Designing and selling Springfield High School booster pennants was another project that kept the Art Club's members enjoyably occupied.

The club, which is composed of students who are interested in art, strives to help them develop understanding of art and originality in their work.

Prom Committee Planned A Gala Affair

A very industrious Prom Committee was named by the Senior Class of 1968. There were five sub-committees which were necessary to organize and carry out the Prom preparations. These committees and their chairmen were: Decorations — Leslie Barrow, Dean Kerasotes, and Nancy Stailey; After Prom — Kris Kratzer and Bill McCoy; Band — Laurel Coutrakon and Debbie Wenneborg; Refreshments — Kurt Dial; Elections — Pat Deloney and Harold Smith; and Advisors — Miss Antilla, Mrs. Rake, Gene Drendel, Nancy Atwater, and Lindy Weisbaum. This year's general chairman was Frank Natale.

Money was earned for Prom through bake sales and car washes, sponsored by the Prom Committee. The profitable Senior Class Play, Spaghetti Supper, and Homecoming float prize also helped to finance the memorable dance.

Senior Homeroom Representatives Worked Toward Prom

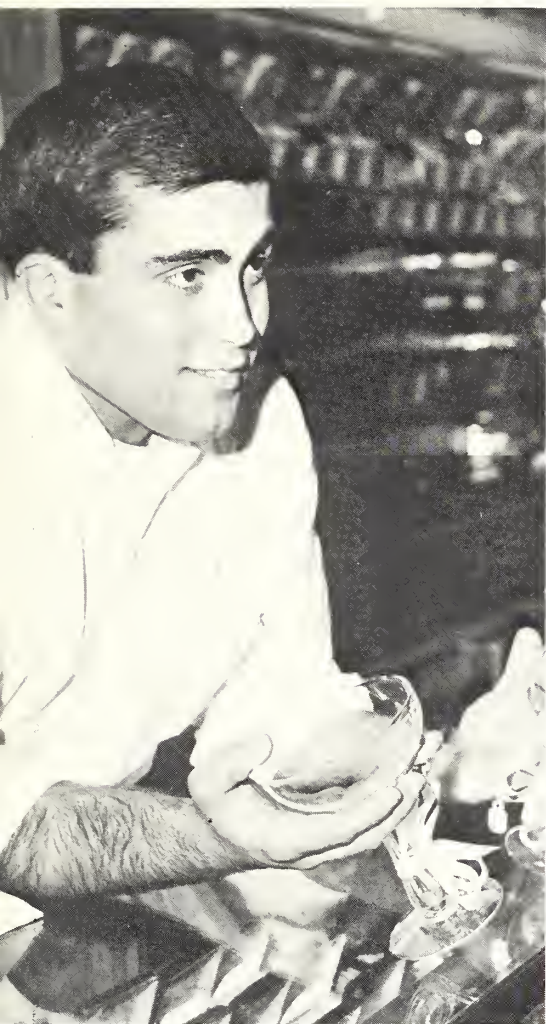

Senior Homeroom Representatives were in charge of various projects pertaining to the Senior Class. The most important one was raising money for the Senior Prom.

The money was earned through a variety of fund-raising projects. The most successful ones were car washes and the sale of Senior Keys.

Representatives were chosen from each of the Senior Homerooms for this task. Delegates co-operated in organizing and carrying out the projects. It was their responsibility to recruit workers, supervise their activities, and report on the projects to the homerooms which they represented.

Distributive Education Stressed Salesmanship And Leadership

Distributive Education, the study and practical application of merchandising, advertising, display, and allied fields, was another of the co-operative work-experience programs offered at Springfield High School. Students who were enrolled in this course were employed by various retail establishments in the city for a set number of hours each week.

In the 1967-1968 school year, the Springfield D.E. Club President Sam Fernandez brought honor to the D.E.

Club by being elected Area 8 President. Later he was elected D.E. State Parliamentarian.

The club co-hosted an Employer-Employee Dinner in the spring. The chief purpose of this dinner was to honor those businessmen who trained D.E. personnel during the course of the year.

The D.E. program at SHS was under the direction of Mr. Jack Fischer, a new co-ordinator at SHS this year.

O. O. Participants Trained For Future Jobs

There were 24 students enrolled in the Office Occupations work-experience program this year. After these students had completed their morning classes, they journeyed to various offices throughout the city. In these offices, they were given training in the medical field, insurance, education, travel, engineering, communications, printing, national defense, wholesaling, and religion.

These students were also members of the local, area, and state Office Occupations organizations. The local organization hosted the annual Employer-Employee Dinner at which the students entertained those with whom they had worked during the course of the year.

The students also attended annual area and state meetings. These meetings consisted of lectures, group discussions, panels, and informal mixers.

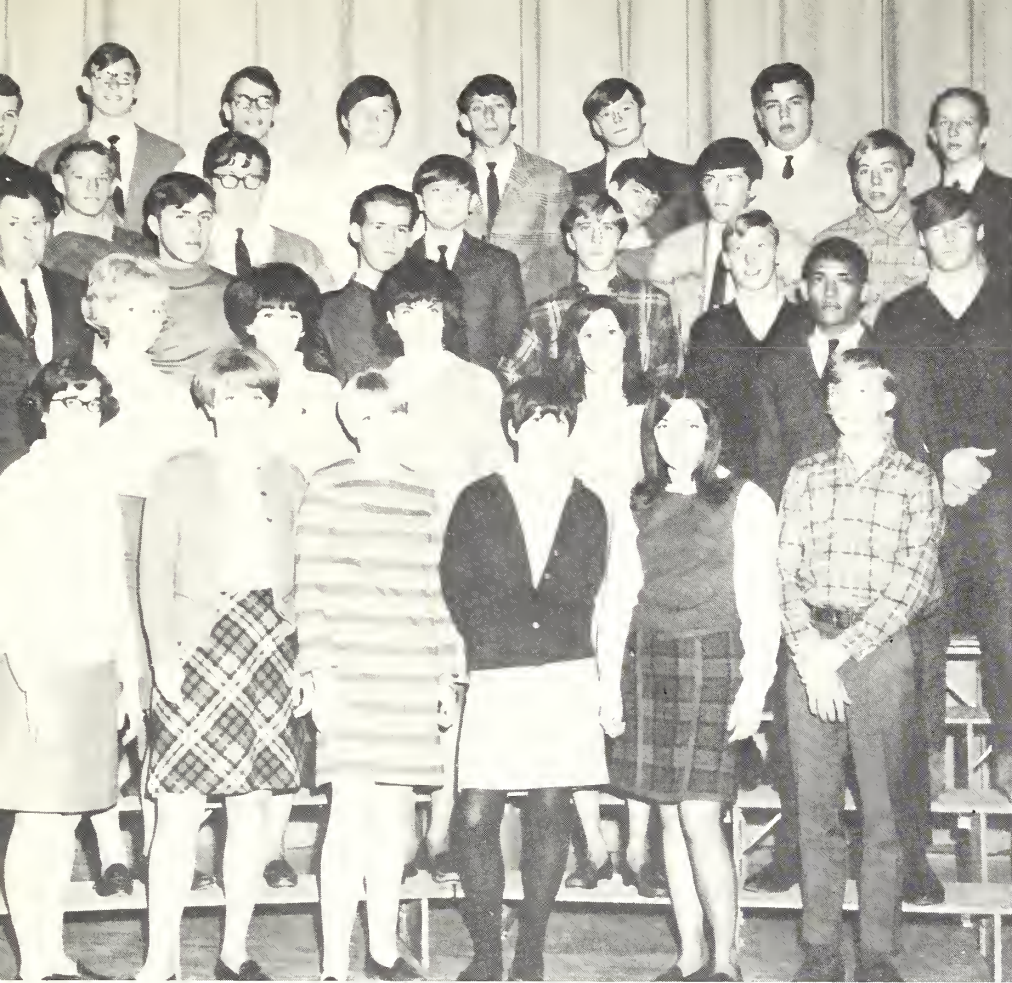

This organization served as an excellent training ground for prospective secretaries, typists, and bookkeepers.

D. O. Hosted The Employer - Employee Banquet

The Diversified Occupations and Cooperative Work Training Programs were full-time programs this year. The year began with 45 students receiving job training in 33 trade and industrial occupations. They worked in such fields as dental technology, hair styling, carpentry, brick-laying, and auto mechanics.

The students who were enrolled in these programs were employed at a service establishment one-half of each school day for a minimum of 15 hours per week. The students attended school the other half of the day to take courses required for graduation. One or two periods each day were devoted to study related to the occupation in which the individual student was employed.

The climax of the club year came with the Employer-Employee Banquet which was co-hosted with other vocational clubs in the school.

September 1967 saw the organization of the Girls' Athletic Association program. The program was under the supervision of the four girls' physical education teachers, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. McCoy, Miss Johnson, and Miss Antilla, with Miss Johnson as sponsor.

G.A.A. provided opportunities for high school girls to participate in a variety of sports. It assisted members in developing responsible student leadership. Two nights a week of fun-filled hours of relaxation, skill, and leisure-time activity made up the program. Sports in the program included softball, volleyball, basketball, badminton, gymnastics, tennis, golf, and bowling.

Basketball was climaxed with a student-faculty game. The city-wide playday in April highlighted the year.

Campus Life Focused On "Balanced Life"

Campus Life Club, formerly known as Y.F.C. Club, met every Tuesday this past year. Twice a month they joined other area Campus Life Clubs for youth rallies at the Centennial Building. The teens planned the rallies themselves with speakers, films, and music.

Campus Life is an inter-denominational non-profit religious organization specializing in youth evangelism. This year's program was centered around the "Balanced Life" concept. The program was designed to help Christian teens balance the four sections of their lives around Jesus Christ. These four sections included the Spiritual, Physical, Mental and Social needs.

New Drama Club Staged Melodrama

The Drama Club, a new addition to Springfield High School this year, was headed by Mrs. Rappel of the English Department. Most students who participated in this new club did so for their own enjoyment in acting.

At the meetings, which were held every Friday after school, plays were discussed, along with the different techniques used in developing them. Members then chose a play, "Ten Nights In A Bar Room", and tryouts were held to determine who would best fill the available parts.

Some of the points which were discussed were the props that were to be used, the expense of a good wardrobe, and, of course, acting ability, which was of prime importance in the Drama Club.

Chamber Orchestra Played In All-City Youth Symphony

Springfield High School's Chamber Orchestra met in the music room every day throughout the school year. This group is the nucleus of the Youth Symphony which is composed of junior high school, senior high school, and parochial school musicians in Springfield. The Youth Symphony meets once every week.

Among the projects of the Chamber Orchestra this year was the annual Christmas concert in the Capitol Building Rotunda. This year's concert was given on December 20. The annual-spring Concert was given in the high school auditorium by the Youth Symphony. Among the other projects were the selling of refreshments at each of the Springfield Symphony concerts, and the non-hour candy sales in the cafeteria.

New Director, Mr. Cappellin, Organized Pep Band

With the retirement of Mr. Conovay from his SHS position, Charles Cappellin took over as director of the SHS band. One of his new ideas was instituting a Pep Band format for the Stage Band. Before football games, it was not an uncommon sight to see the seventeen members of the Stage-Pep Band performing at pep assemblies or even parading through the halls.

The Pep Band cooperated with cheerleaders at football games, while the entire ninety-nine member band performed half-time shows at basketball and football games.

The band met every day, and the Stage-Pep Band met every Wednesday evening in preparation for concerts given on February 25 and April 25. The Stage Band won a $50 first prize in the local Parade of Bands with their performance on three selections.

The band was able to raise money from the sale of band sweatshirts, rental of band uniforms, and proceeds from Spring Concerts tickets.

A Cappella Captivated Yuletide Television Audiences

This year's Springfield High School A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Mr. Daniel Spreckelmeyer, was composed of eighty-four members.

During the Christmas Concert, A Cappella combined with the mixed choirs to present "The Christmas Story." In this year's traditional concert finale, the A Cappella members created "A Happy Holiday" Yuletide scene. The selection of songs included "Jingle Bells," "Do You Hear What I Hear?" "Silent Night," and concluded with a musical Merry Christmas wish.

A Cappella choir filmed a half-hour television show composed of a Christmas cantata and other numbers. Selected members of the choir, along with other city high school choir members, also appeared on a television program shown on Christmas morning.

The choir participated in the All-City Musical Festival held in April as well as in the annual Spring Concert.

Singing Seven Performed At Royal Ball

Singing Seven, which was initiated eleven years ago, is comprised of seven vocalists and the pianist who are selected by Mr. Spreckelmeyer for their singing talents, personality and poise.

Among the many concerts given by the Singing Seven were their performances at the Beaux Arts Ball, the Christmas and Spring school concerts, and for many church and civic organizations.

In their red dresses with black insignias of the Singing Seven, the girls charmed every audience with their singing, and they represented Springfield High School well.

Choirs Combined To Entertain At Concerts

This year a new, all-male choir was added to the list of musical groups at Springfield High School. The Singing Senators joined the Advanced Girls' Choir, Sophomore Girls' Choir, and the Mixed Choir in presenting the Christmas and Spring Concerts.

The choirs, under the direction of Mr. Daniel Spreckelmeyer, sang religious and serious music, as well as contemporary music, for both school and community audiences.

Advanced Girls' Choir is composed of girls in the senior, junior, and sophomore classes. The Mixed Choir is also composed of members from all three grade levels.

These two groups and the Sophomore Girls' Choir have regularly scheduled meetings during class periods.

Beginning in November, the Singing Senators, which consisted of about thirty members, met every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 7:45 A.M. to rehearse.

Football Teams At SHS Enjoyed Successful Season

Managers Gary Kitchen, Steve Lawrence, Ken Frankowiak, Steve Patton, Charles Spencer, Steve Scaife; and Harold Smith, Head Manager.

An exceptional defense highlighted the varsity football scene this year at SHS.

Greg McClelland was named an All-State tackle, while Kent Carpentier shared in the glory by setting a record for rushing—727 yards, the best a Junior has ever done.

This year the team did some sharing of titles. The Senators tied with Griffin for the city championship and shared the Big 12 championship title with Champaign. It was the first time since 1950 that SHS had gained the Big 12 title.

This year's sophomore team, small in number as compared with previous years, displayed a great amount of pride in themselves, a desire to win, and a hustle to get the job done. One of the best records in the history of sophomore teams at SHS was achieved (6-1).

With their drive and their ability as shown at every game throughout the season, these boys will undoubtedly soar to greater heights at the varsity level.

The Co-Captains for the squad were Ed Vehovic and Tom Crouch.

Salient Gridders' Efforts Gained Glory For SHS

Something new in football appeared on the scene this year at SHS in the form of one Coach Lyle Wind and the freshman football squad. Initiated to help prepare freshmen for our sophomore team, the squad is made up of boys from the various junior high schools who will be attending SHS next year.

The team has provided new experience for the freshman football players by bringing them to our athletic field to join in practice with the sophomore and varsity teams and to ready them for the positions many will play on next year's Senator team.

The freshmen were led by Co-Captains Joe Hurwitz and Tom Jenson as they blasted their way to the top as City Champs with a 4-2 record.

Pom Poms Added Pizzazz To Basketball Home Games

A new arrival to SHS, the Pom Pom Girls, were visualized first by student, Stephanie Fritz. They became a reality after eager preparation, eliminations, and hard work. When Stephanie quizzed Miss Antilla as to why we did not have a pom pom cheering section, no answer could be found; so such a section was promptly created.

After tryouts, approximately twenty girls were chosen; and three faculty advisors, Miss Antilla, Miss Sedlak, and Mrs.

Wollan, joined in to mold the group into shape. To prepare for their performances, the girls selected and provided their own costumes. They worked out their own routines and practiced four days a week.

The Pom Pom girls were required to be present at all home basketball games. Their choreography and routines blended harmoniously with the band. School spirit and entertainment combined to typify our new group, the SHS Pom Pom girls.

Cheerleaders' New Uniforms Brought Extra Color To Games

Enthusiasm, radiated from the cheerleaders, quickly spread to the student body which stood behind its teams through victory and defeat alike.

Co-captains Bonnie Barber and Lindy Weisbaum worked with Mrs. Jones to plan pep assemblies and new cheers. The cheerleaders collaborated with the stage band in developing routines to music for the games.

Signs were used both at school and at the Armory to predict opponents' defeat. Basketball players arrived on the court after crashing through large drawings created by the cheerleaders.

At the end of each school year, the squad is chosen for the next year. A sizable panel of judges consisting of students and faculty members selects the cheerleaders on the basis of their enthusiasm, good sportsmanship, athletic ability, and scholastic average.

Basketball Teams Gave Their "All" At Every Game

Starting the season with only one returning letterman, Don Byram, the Senator basketball team was considered young and inexperienced. Lack of height and the inexperience hurt the team as was illustrated by the loss of many close ball games in the last few minutes of play. However, the Senators did play some fine ball. In the Pontiac Tournament, they defeated a challenging Granite City squad. Second-rated Deatur was upset by the Senators in regular season play; and close games were played against highly rated Quincy, Lanphier, and Champaign.

Coached by Joe Rockford, the Sophomores held a record of 12 wins and 8 losses during their regular season. The team showed spirit and gained experience needed to help incorporate them into our varsity team next year.

Swift Swimmers Compiled Remarkable Records

The Springfield High School Swim Team finished the season with a remarkable record of ten wins and two losses, the best record ever to be compiled by SHS swimmers. Led by co-captains Bob Fleetwood and Mike Varns, the Solons won the City Meet for the seventh straight year, placed third in the Big 12 Conference Meet, and finished seventh in the District Meet. Led by Coach Robert Milnes, many of the Solon Swimmers set pool records: Mike Schwartz in the 100-yard Breaststroke, Kit Kozeliski in the 50-yard and 100-yard Free Style, Mike O'Connell and John Blythe sharing the 100-yard Backstroke record, and Todd Bryan in the 400-yard Free Style.

Enjoying its most successful season this year, the Senator wrestling team won 11, lost 3, and tied 1 in dual-match competition. The team finished third in the District, sixth in the Sectional, and won the second place trophy in the Holiday Tournament.

Steve Tozer and Gary Higgins advanced to the State finals at Evanston, Tozer by winning the Sectional, and Higgins by finishing as sectional runner-up. Tozer placed sixth in the State and became only the second wrestler from the City of Springfield to place in the State. Tozer, Dahlkamp, Higgins and Veach won titles in the Holiday Tournament.

Despite the injury to valuable team member Bernie Hamm early in the season, the Cross-Country squad made a good showing.

After regaining the city championship, the team went on to place 6th in the Big 12 meet and 5th out of 21 schools participating in the District Meet. Competition in the Peoria Invitational was stiff, with the squad pulling out 21st out of 38 schools present.

Pep Club Boosted School Spirit

This year's Pep Club, whose membership increased over last year's by one hundred students, succeeded in boosting the school spirit of Springfield High School. The posters and banners which Club members put up around the school served as reminders to the student body to continue backing the teams. Pep Club sponsored buses to out-of-town games, held after-game dances, and sold candy on the lunch shifts.

Senior Class Won First Place In Float Competition

Springfield High School's Homecoming of 1967, sponsored by the Student Council, began with cheers and shouts of S-U-C-C-E-S-S at a lively and spirited pep assembly Friday afternoon. The candidates for Homecoming King and Queen were introduced to the students and faculty. An enthusiastic and eager-for-victory student body was determined to upset its foes, the Urbana Tigers, at Saturday's game.

Beautiful Indian-summer weather

L. C. Borden's Condensed Orchestra motivated gyrations from the younger set and tapping toes from the chaperones.

seemed to assure the Solons of a perfect Homecoming weekend. Floats predicting an astounding defeat of the tame "Pussycats" of Urbana paraded through downtown Springfield. After the judging of the floats, senior superiority was again proven by the Class of 1968 with its first-place float, "Sowinski's Circus." Second and third places in this competition were merited by the AFS Club and the Junior Class floats.

Homecoming Dance Ended

A Memorable Day

The Solons needed more than just a desire to win the afternoon game, and the Urbana team more than prevented a victory for S.H.S. Despite the fact that Springfield's combined total yardage for rushing and passing was greater than Urbana's, the Tigers spoiled this important traditional game. A fact which made the loss even more bitter was that it was the only game that Springfield, the Big 12 champs, lost all season.

A lost game, however, failed to spoil the weekend for the Senators as they danced to the music of L. C. Borden's Condensed Orchestra Saturday evening. The highlight of the dance, which had the theme of "While We're Young," was the crowning of Queen Bonnie Barber and King Bob Fleetwood. Everything about Homecoming 1967, from its preparation to its realization, will be fondly remembered.

"Going to a foreign country, we have the opportunity to know other people, other customs, and almost another life. I was very glad to be the A.F.S. student for 1967 and 1968. I didn't realize what my experience would be until I arrived here and met my new family and friends.

One of the major money-making projects toward prom, the Senior Class Spaghetti Supper, was again sponsored by this year's graduating class. Approximately eighty seniors worked at this project, tackling such jobs as cleaning tables, pouring coffee, and washing dishes. Tickets for the supper were sold by all of the members of the Senior Class. The Spaghetti Supper was proclaimed a huge success by the guests who attended and was also a financial success toward the 1968 prom.

Sixty-Three Colleges Were Represented At College Day

On Tuesday, October 24, 1967, Springfield High School was host to representatives from over sixty colleges and universities located throughout the Midwest. During College Day, students were given the opportunity to inquire about the curriculum and admission requirements of the various schools in which they were interested.

As in the past, members of Interact aided college advisor, Miss Hausen, in the organization of this program by preparing the gymnasium for the interviews and acting as hosts throughout the day.

In addition to the day session, the college representatives were present in the gym from seven until nine in the evening to answer questions from parents as well as students.

S.H.S. students this year were treated to a variety of interesting assemblies. Besides the enthusiastic pep rallies and educational assemblies, concerts and other entertaining programs were presented in the auditorium.

MacMurray College Department of Speech and Theatre Arts delivered an exciting presentation of Edgar Lee Masters' Spoon River Anthology. The Vanity Fair assembly humorously and realistically demonstrated to an all-girl audience the reasoning behind the dress code. Soon after this assembly, the boys attended the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild School assembly program. The boys viewed both slides and a movie and learned of the opportunity to enter the $117,000 scholarship competition by designing a model car. These and several other assemblies were both educational and entertaining to the student body.

"Rebel Without A Cause" Portrayed Frustrations Of Today's Youth

"Rebel Without a Cause," the first three-act play presented by the senior class in four years, sparked the enthusiasm of the entire school. Play director James Andrews commented that the cast was the most high spirited he had worked with in recent years. Remarks from the student body reflected his feelings and also praised the director himself.

The theme of the play was a true "Spirit of '68" as the characters depicted rebellion and confusion, yet a sense of compassion and loyalty. The mood of the big-city high school gangs, coupled with the trials of misguided juveniles and their parents, captivated the audience in a spell that was not entirely unfamiliar to their personal lives.

Acting without scenery, the cast, the director, and the stage managers did a commendable job of conveying the setting. The drag-racing scene resulting in the death of Buzz was especially effective.

Ken Cole and Glenna Kniss received recognition for their roles as the young lovers battling personal problems and conflicting emotions. They provided the audience with the warm human affection in contrast with the cruelty and destructiveness of the street gangs.

Singing Senators Were Introduced At Christmas Concert

This year's Christmas Concert marked the debut of the Singing Senators. The all-male group sang three songs, including "Mary Had A Baby."

A Cappella combined with the Mixed Choir and the Sophomore Girls' Choir to present "The Song of Christmas." Advanced Girls' Choir sang "This Little Babe" and "Song of the Angels." A Cappella concluded the first half of the program singing "Christmas Day."

In the traditional finale, A Cappella and the Singing Seven created "A Happy Holiday" scene. Dressed in Currier and Ives period costumes, they sang various Christmas carols including "Do You Hear What I Hear?" "Here We Come A Wassailing," "Jingle Bells," and "A Winter Wonderland." Amid a gentle snow-fall, the Choir sang "Silent Night." The Concert came to a conclusion on a cheery note with "We Wish You A Merry Christmas."

"And what did YOU ask Santa for?"

Intramural League Champs Challenged Faculty Team

As an important part of the athletic program at S.H.S., intramurals stressed physical alertness. It was more than just a physical-fitness program, however, as intramural sports added a great deal to school, class, club, and individual spirit.

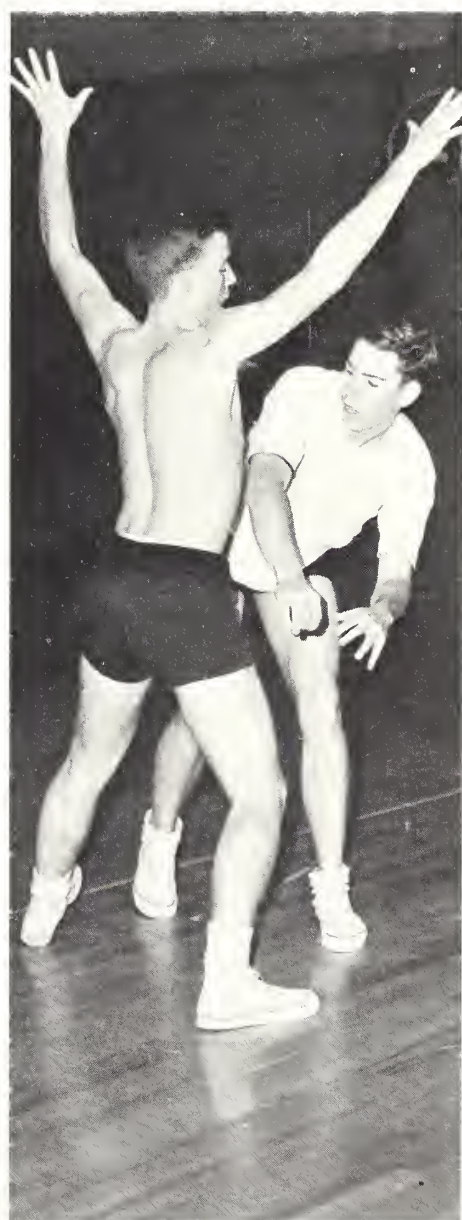

Team names such as Yesterday's Leftovers, Square Roots of Seven, Seagram's Seven, The Ghetto Boys, and The Bouncy Meatballs describe well the enthusiastic atmosphere present when almost 200 boys participated in Springfield High's Intramural League. Different sports were offered for each session, with basketball being the largest session and most participated-in sport. Under the supervision of Mr. Hudson and Mr. Sowinski, nightly schedules were organized for the 28 teams. Everyone from the sophisticated seniors to the anxious sophomores took part in the competition, but the superiority of the senior teams was easily apparent, as it was a senior team that won the honor of playing the faculty by capturing the intramural league championship.

Psychedelic intramural players imagine they are reaching for the sun.

"With A Little Bit Of Soul" Senators Toured The East

The ninety juniors and seniors and the six brave chaperones who took the 1967 Washington-New York trip left Springfield on June 4, heading for Washington, D.C. An evening was spent there, followed by a day of sight-seeing in both Jamestown and Williamsburg, Virginia, and two evenings in New York City. Tours of the United Nations, the Smithsonian Institute, a show at Radio City Music Hall, an unscheduled but fascinating visit to New York's Chinatown, and the Statue of Liberty were just some of the highlights of the trip.

The weary but happy travelers returned eight days later, laden with souvenirs and memories of nights spent on trains and the mornings after, a great evening swimming and dancing at Moore's Lake in Virginia, and a wonderful time had by all.

Seniors Prepared For Future In Colleges And Careers

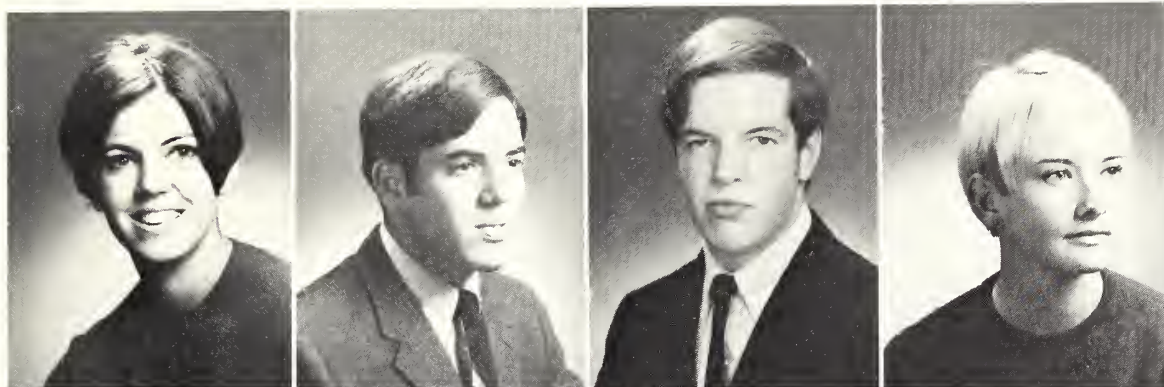

Senior superiority was traditionally carried on by the class of 1968. The seniors were determined to have the best prom, which entailed much hard work. In order to earn money, they sponsored such projects as bake sales, car washes, the Senior Class Play, and the spaghetti supper. The school spirit of the class was definitely superior as evidenced by its first-place Homecoming Float, the pep banners in the halls, and its eager promotion of buses to out-of-town games.

The senior year was a time for striving to do the best job possible, for enjoying the envy of the sophomores and juniors, and for choosing and being accepted by one's favorite college. During their final year in high school, as the '68 Senators struggled with trigonometry and Senior English, they remembered past years, savored their senior year, and looked ahead to greater challenges.

Juniors Achieved High Scores On College Testing Programs

This year's juniors discontinued the antics of their sophomore year and settled down to carrying on the fine traditions of Springfield High School. Initiation, cooperation, and participation were the key words of the class of 1969.

Juniors influenced the initiation of new ideas in various clubs and organizations through their positions of leadership. The class of 1969 displayed outstanding cooperation in school activities such as athletics and musical productions. Their class projects included a bake sale, a highly successful car wash, and a Homecoming float that merited third place. Through participation in student government, various college testing programs, and school publications, the junior class will be well prepared to accept the responsibilities and the challenges facing them in their senior year.

Sophomores Suffered Through Period Of Adjustment

As soon as the sophomores entered Springfield High School, it was evident that the class of 1970 would be one of the most active classes ever. After becoming accustomed to Springfield's maze of hallways and adjusting to the high school way of life, the sophomores eagerly participated in sports, clubs, and various other activities. The class was especially commended for its enthusiasm during the pep assemblies and at games.

The sophomores followed the traditions set by the previous classes and even made some of their own. Even though they were often ridiculed by the upperclassmen, they took the jibes in stride and plotted revenge for next year's class.

Prom and graduation were uppermost in the minds of the sophomores as they anticipated the day when they would be seniors.
